

UCI Assessment Grant Program—Spring 2009 Proposal Abstracts

- Deborah Avant, Political Science:

This project aims to insure that International Studies has the right learning objectives overall and then to develop assessment procedures for three of them. I propose to do this through a review of best practices among top undergraduate programs in International Studies and participation in a doctoral research project.