

UCI Assessment Grant Program—Spring 2012 Proposal Abstracts

- John LaRue, The Henry Samueli School of Engineering

The School proposes a focused review of the assessment tools and techniques developed in-house prior to the general review by ABET in 2013. The School seeks a critique and review of nine undergraduate engineering Self-Study Reports in Summer 2012 and a three-day site visit in Fall 2012 to include all Senate faculty in the School, external reviewers, students, alumni, industry, and key staff. The assessment process of nine programs will be scrutinized, including direct assessment of program educational objectives and student outcomes, as well as the examination of student work. It will also include interviews with faculty and other constituencies.
