

UCI Assessment Grant Program—Fall 2008 Proposal Abstracts

- Keith Moore, Earth System Science:

The department of Earth System Science has begun faculty discussions developing the desired learning outcomes for the existing B.S. degree in Earth and Environmental Sciences. Over the next year a faculty committee, in consultation with the full faculty, will finalize these learning outcomes, develop learning outcomes for our proposed new B.A. degree program in Earth and Environmental Sciences, and implement an assessment program to evaluate how well the curriculum in both degree programs is enabling students to achieve the desired learning outcomes. The faculty committee will meet regularly consulting with the full department through faculty meetings and one retreat.
